

MARSHALL PRIMARIES.

Capt. Dovenor Carries the Congressional Contest

BY AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY.

Pipes and Purdy seem to be the Legislative Nominees—A Large Vote Cast in all the Precincts Heard from the Details of the Vote—The Result Will Strengthen the Party Before the People.

There were people who prophesied that Captain Dovenor would not be "in it" in the contest for the delegates to the Republican convention from Marshall county. The result of the primary elections held Saturday showed that he was the only person who was in it. His delegates were elected by majorities so large as to make it appear that there was no other real candidate.

So far as the returns have been received, they indicate the nomination of T. C. Pipes and J. B. Purdy as candidates for the house of delegates. Several precincts remain to be heard from, however. So far as heard from, the vote in the different precincts was as follows:

They Didn't Agree.

Meetings were held at Parkersburg on Friday and Saturday by Judge Jackson, of the United States court, Supervising Inspector Chancellor and Surveyor of the Port of Parkersburg, of this city, to elect a local steamboat inspector to succeed Captain William Dillon, deceased. Both sessions resulted in a deadlock.

It is an age of fraud and adulteration, it is certainly gratifying to know that such an extensively-used preparation as Ayer's Sarsaparilla may be implicitly relied upon. It never varies either in quality, appearance, or effect, but is always up to the standard.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

The party of Wheeling people who were out in Hampshire county for the last two weeks, composed of Messrs. O. E. Van Keuren, W. T. Best, W. P. McKelvey, Battelle, Harry Foxie, Dr. J. W. Morris, Turner Morris and Jacob Morris, have returned after having had a most enjoyable time. They fished on four days, and their catch amounted to 215, mostly bass. The section of country they fished and hunted in is known as "The Trough," and is about as wild as any in the New Dominion. They saw a bear, too far off however, to give them a chance to kill, and a deer was found, but this is not the lawful season to hunt that animal. An experience they had was the discovery and cutting down of a bee tree, very scarce now. It yielded over one hundred pounds of honey.

BRIGHT MAN GONE WRONG.

Edward T. Delaney, a Brilliant Columbus Lawyer, Found Dead in His Office.

COLUMBUS, O., July 29.—Edward T. Delaney was found dead in his office in the Lazarus building, at the corner of High and Town streets, yesterday morning. It was the anticipated end of a wasted life. No citizen of Columbus was better known than Ed Delaney. He was carefully educated at Dayton by his uncle, the Rev. Father Delaney, who had a father's affection for the brilliant, wayward lad. He was graduated at Andover in 1885, and subsequently read law with Clement L. Vallentyne at Dayton. Upon his admission to the bar he located in Columbus, where his talents and ability, with his handsome face and winning manners, brought him immediate popularity.

In 1888 he was elected prosecuting attorney, defeating George K. Nash. Three years later he was defeated for re-election by Judge Nash.

In consequence of some peculiar transactions in connection with his practice, he was tried in 1871 on a criminal charge, but the jury disagreed. Later disbarment proceedings were brought, but Delaney and the other attorney implicated fled. After an absence of ten years, principally spent in Wisconsin, Delaney returned, and was permitted to resume his practice. His life had been ruined, however, and he had acquired an appetite for liquor, which made him unreliable at all times. He was four times married, and as often divorced, and has frequently been in trouble caused by one of his outbreaks of temper, during one of which he shot and killed a neighbor's cow.

During the past few years he has picked up a scant living at the bar, rooming at his office and eating anywhere. His last appearance of note was when he was employed as one of the attorneys for Frank Van Loan, and on that case, when the time came for him to make the closing argument he was rendered unable to do so by intoxication. Of recent years he has added morphine eating to his vices, and it is supposed that this is what killed him.

He was a man of wide reading and culture, witty and versatile. His use of invective and sarcasm led him to be feared by every one. He might have been one of the foremost citizens of the state instead of dying alone, penniless and friendless.

The body was discovered this morning, lying upon a lounge in his office. The indications are that he had been dead many hours, as he had not been seen since yesterday morning, when he was observed lying in the same position in which death found and left him. An inquest will be held.

THREE ARE DEAD

As the Result of a Boiler Explosion of a Colliery Establishment.

ASHLAND, PA., July 29.—One of a nest of six boilers at Lehigh Valley colliery No. 4 exploded last night, instantly killing one man and severely injuring three others, two of whom have since died. The dead are:

John Miller, aged 45, of Girardville.

John Lanbach, aged 25, of Shenandoah.

Darby Shields, aged 45, of Shenandoah.

Miller leaves a wife and four children and Shields a wife and five children. Lanbach was single. The fourth victim was Steve Sosky, a Polisher, who was badly scalded about the face and body, but will recover. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

SHIELDS BIGGER GAME.

The Dismissal of Capt. Doherty and His Tammany Ward Men.

ARE ONLY THE SCAPEGOATS

For Others Who are Still Cloaked from Observation—There are Many Things Connected With His Removal That Indicate That Tammany is Going Back on Its Hoolers.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The charge made by Captain Doherty on cross-examination on his trial before the police commission that he had reported to President Martin the misconduct of his sergeants in taking Mrs. Thuro's bonds, seems to be the issue of greatest interest among the various police scandals. On the day it was made the president (Martin) paid no attention to it, though on the first day of the trial he had defied Captain Doherty or any other police official to implicate him in the misdeeds exposed by the Lexow committee. On the next day he denied the truth of the accusation, comparing it to a drowning man catching at a straw. To-day the captain reiterated the charge to a reporter, saying: "In spite of Martin's denial my statement is true," he said. "I did report to President Martin, and asked him to have the sergeant removed, or that otherwise a big scandal would grow out of it. Do you think that if any man had got up in police court and made that statement about me that I would not have indignantly denied it? Did he do it? No; he waited about forty-eight hours to say that I lied."

The matter, of course, will be taken up by the Lexow committee in September.

The police trials will be resumed before the police commission this week, and it is expected that other accused officials will be forced to join Captain Doherty in private life.

DOHERTY WILL HAVE COMPANY.

The moral effect of the conviction and dismissal of Captain Doherty and his ward men is somewhat dimmed by the impression which obtains pretty generally that they were singled out for punishment in deference to the sentiment aroused by the disclosures before the Lexow committee to shield still bigger game. It is too much to expect that the police department will purge itself of all corruption without outside assistance. However, the police commissioners say that they will continue their investigation "fearlessly." If this be true, Doherty is sure to have plenty of company in his disgrace. It would not surprise those who have followed the police investigations closely if some of the convicted captains and other minor officials decided to turn state's evidence and reveal the whole inside of the gigantic conspiracy which has had New York in its grip for so many years. Many high officials in that event would be likely to suffer.

It is now believed that all of the disgraceful and disgusting facts will be brought out before the present investigation comes to an end. The Lexow committee will resume its sessions in September, and it is understood to have sufficient evidence in its possession now to cause even more startling disclosures than were developed when it first took the matter in hand.

SOME SLY WORK

Being Done by New York Democrats—The Saratoga Conference.

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 29.—This has been a day of rest among the politicians, and save for the fish dinner given by Fish Commissioner Scannell at Krum's Lake house this afternoon nobody would have ever known there was even the suspicion of a Democratic conference. That there was to have been one, had Senator Murphy been able to leave Washington, is pretty well established by the arrival of District Attorney Ridgeway, of Brooklyn, who openly expressed his disappointment when young Mr. Murphy said that he did not expect his father until the latter part of the week.

A politician, who is in a position to know, said to-day: The fish dinner at Krum's was not even an informal conference. Nothing will, or can be done until Mr. Murphy reaches here, for he will not only speak for Senator Hill, but also for Governor Flower. It is possible that the governor will be here himself, for I understand that it is almost certain that there will be a conference here on Wednesday or Thursday. Lieutenant Governor Sheehan will be here on that day, and in accordance with the ultimatum of Governor Flower he will not run unless there is harmony in the party."

Richard Croker became slightly communicative to-day, and speaking of the probable Republican nomination, said: "The ticket I have heard mentioned most in Morton and Aldridge, the latter the mayor of Rochester."

He would not speak on the subject of a Democratic ticket.

CURES OTHERS

Mrs. WILLIAM ROBERTS, Bridgeport, N. Y., writes: "If I had not taken your medicine, I would not be here now. The doctors did me no good, I was just more miserable. I could not eat, I could not sleep, I was weak, nervous, and could not sleep. After I took your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I commenced to improve. In two weeks could walk about the house—could eat—did not have any more pain in my stomach—threw away my morphia powder. When I first commenced taking the medicine I made me feel worse. I was hoarse, could not speak aloud for three days; as I got better my pain and had feelings left and I could sleep good. My nerves got better. Before I took your medicine I kept my bed four months—got worse all the while. I am now quite healthy and can work all day."
